Spring 2019

Dear Friends,

The Chamber Music Society of Williamsburg is pleased to announce the coming 2019-2020 season of six chamber music ensembles. Our selection committee and board of directors work to bring you both well-established and newer groups which demonstrate the highest level of performance.

For the last several years, the Society's season has sold out quickly. To assure your tickets for the next concert season, we are asking current subscribers to resubscribe no later than Monday, May 13. If you are not yet a subscriber, please join us for this outstanding season by sending in your subscription form and check right away. On Tuesday, May 14, we will open the season to new subscriptions in the order in which forms with checks were received. Checks received after all tickets are sold will be returned.

From its beginning in 1987, the Chamber Music Society of Williamsburg has been most fortunate to receive contributions from those who wish to bring excellent chamber music to Williamsburg. Through your generous, tax-deductible gifts for the 2019-20 season, this can continue. Your contribution will be appreciated and acknowledged.

Three years ago, a generous donation from Ulli Scharnberg permitted us to establish an endowment for the future of chamber music in Williamsburg. Since then, several other generous patrons have added to its corpus. Ask me or any board member should you wish further information about the endowment.

Thank you for your subscription and support. Come join us for our 33rd season.

Best regards,
